Railroad Commission Orders Changes in
Time.—It Affects F. E. C. and A.
C. L. at Orange City Jct.

For some time past passengers who wished to go to points on the Atlantic Coast Line, and in the southern portion of the State, have been greatly inconvenienced by a long stay at Orange City Junction, in waiting on connecting trains.

The Florida Railway Commission has received the recent order to the Atlantic Coast Line and East Coast Railway Companies, changing their schedules so that connections might be made for points on the East Coast.

The Atlantic Coast Line is commanded to change the schedule of passenger train No. 80, so that it will Tampa at 7:40 daily, or at such time as will enable it to arrive at Sanford at 12:20 p. m. and at Orange City Junction 1:10 p. m. The East Coast Railway is ordered that its train No. 29 shall arrive at Titusville at 2:40 p. m. daily, but shall wait ten minutes longer for the arrival of their train No. 12 from Sanford if the same shall be delayed and will arrive within that time.

Also that train No. 78 shall arrive at Titusville at 2:35 p. m., but shall wait ten minutes longer for the arrival of train No. 12 from Sanford if same shall be delayed. Also that train No. 12 shall leave Sanford at 12:25 p. m., but if the Atlantic Coast Line No. 80 is late and will arrive within fifteen minutes of its schedule time, then No. 12 shall wait for its arrival, and shall make connections with trains No. 29 and 78 at Titusville. Also that train No. 2 shall leave Orange City Junction at 1:25 p. m., but if the Atlantic Coast Line train No. 80 is late and will arrive within fifteen minutes of its schedule time, then train No. 2 shall wait its arrival and shall make connection with train No. 29 at New Smyrna.

It is further ordered that these schedules shall go into effect on April 15, 1906, and remain in operation until further orders from the commission.

By the above it will be seen that each road is required to do its share toward affording accommodations for passengers who desire to make east coast connections. It will be observed also that not only is the East Coast road to hold its trains a reasonable time in case the con-

TWO MONSTER SHARK CAUGHT.

Anglers Have Exciting Time From
Pier at Daytona Beach.—Measured
Seven and Eight Feet.

Recently several large sharks have been caught from the pier at Daytona Beach, and sport afforded has been exciting. It has somewhat revived interest in shark fishing and daily several enthusiastic anglers wend their way to the pier.

Saturday two monsters, measuring about seven and eight feet in length were caught by Frank Jones and T. J. Murray. They had an exciting time in bringing them to shore and guns were brought into play before they were landed. Another shark and a stingray broke the line.

Meeting trains are late, but also that, having held their Sanford and Orange City Junction trains the required length of time, they must then not fail to connect with the main line trains at New Smyrna and Titusville. By this arrangement passengers are reasonably sure of getting to their destination.

THE RIVERVIEW HAS BEEN SOLD.

Mrs. Ella C. Glenn is the Purchaser.—
A Fine Location.—The Garfield
Property Also Sold.

The property known as the Riverview, formerly the Palmis, on North Beach Street has been sold by Mrs. Sands to Mrs. Ella C. Glenn. The deal has been pending for some time, but was only closed Monday. The house has about fifteen rooms and the location is one of the best in the city. Mrs. Glenn expects to take possession within the next month. She will run the place as a boarding house. Bingham & Thompson negotiated the deal. This firm has also sold the Garfield property on Palmetto Avenue to Mrs. Mary A. Collins.

Entertainment.

A dollar entertainment that will cost you nothing will be given this evening near the store of the Hensdricks Mercantile Company. The entertainment, which will be given in the open air, consists of a stereopticon illustrated lecture on the St. Louis World's Fair, and "How White House Shoes Are Made;" also moving pictures of Buster Brown and his dog Tige. In case of inclement weather the pictures will be shown at the Opera House.

This entertainment is given by the Brown Shoe Company, of St. Louis, one of the largest firms of shoe manufacturers in the world.

Frank Simpson and his sister, Miss Mayte, of Mantua, who have been spending a month at The Clarendon, left Monday on a visit to Palm Beach and the lower East Coast resorts.

Mrs. William Jackson, of The Cedars, gave a pleasant dance at her hotel last evening in honor of Mrs. Frederick Whitaker and her daughter, who leave Saturday for their home in Fall River, Mass., also Harry McGhie, who leaves today for Brooklyn. The Neapolitan Orchestra was in attendance and discoursed music during the evening. Dancing was continued until a late hour and those fortunate enough to be present thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

Complimented.

Since the resignation of Bert Fish from the position of superintendent of schools of Volusia, there has been many nice compliments in the State press concerning him. One from the Jacksonville Metropolis we herewith reproduce. "Bert Fish has resigned the superintendency of the public schools of Volusia County, because he had too much law business to look after, and thought he could not do justice to the schools. It is, indeed, gratifying to know of such conscientious men. They are an honor to Florida."

NOTICE.—Corporation Taxes of Daytona Beach may be paid at Town Hall, daily, from 1 to 6 p. m., until April 1st. 20-4f Theo. Carter, Tax Collector.

Miss Reider and her mother, who have been visiting at the home of Captain Henry Peigras, on Orange avenue, leave today for St. Augustine, from whence they will go to their home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

MANY TOURISTS STILL IN DAYTONA.

Hotels Doing a Rushing Business.—Will Be Liberally Patronized Until April.

Hotel People Pleased.

The hotels in Daytona and across the river are still well filled and the indication is that they will be liberally patronized until the first or second week in April.

That the season in Daytona for the past three weeks has been up to the standard of former years is attested by all hotel men, and those who are engaged in caring for the public are quite pleased with the season's business.

The guests of the Grand Atlantic will enjoy a euchre party this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Weller and their daughter are spending a few days at Bulow. They went down in their launch Columbia. They make frequent trips to Bulow where they spend most of their time fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hathaway expect to leave here within the next ten days for Somerville, Mass., where they will spend the summer. During the past two months, they have been guests at the Ivy Inn, and their many friends will be sorry to have them leave.

It is a known fact that fewer tourists came to Florida this winter than last, but Daytona has done her full share of the business, compared with that done in other towns in the State.

The attractions of this pretty town, the elegant beach, and other surroundings are great drawing cards, and those who have spent a part or all of the season here say they have greatly enjoyed their stay and most of the tourists have expressed their desire to return.

A. W. Newlin, a few days ago, had the misfortune to break the crank shaft in his automobile on the Daytona Deland road about five miles from the latter place. He immediately went to Deland, secured a team and hauled the automobile to that town. He telegraphed for a new crank shaft and it is expected within the next few days. With Mr. Newlin at the time of the accident were Frederick Lundy and several friends.

THE HEATHEN CHINEE

By Bret Harte

WHICH I wish to remark—
And my language is plain—
That for ways that are dark
And for tricks that are vain
The heathen Chinese is peculiar—
Which the same I would rise to explain.

Ah Sin was his name,
And I shall not deny
In regard to the same
What that name might imply.
But his smile it was pensive and child-like,
As I frequent remarked to Bill Nye.

It was August the third,
And quite soft were the skies,
Which it might be inferred
That Ah Sin was likewise.
Yet he played it that day upon William
And me in a way I despise.

Which we had a small game,
And Ah Sin took a hand,
It was euchre. The same
He did not understand,
But he smiled as he sat by the table
With the smile that was childlike and bland.

Yet the cards they were stocked
In a way that I grieve,
And my feelings were shocked
At the state of Nye's sleeve,
Which was stuffed full of aces and lowers,
And the same with intent to deceive.

But the hands that were played
By that heathen Chinese
And the points that he made
Were quite trifling to see
Till at last he put down a right bower,
Which the same Nye had dealt unto me.

Then I looked up at Nye,
And he gazed upon me,
And he rose, with a sigh,
And said: "Can this be?
We are ruined by Chinese cheap labor."
And he went for that heathen Chinese.

In the scene that ensued
I did not take a hand,
But the floor it was strewn
Like the leaves on the strand
With the cards that Ah Sin had been hiding
In the game "he did not understand."

In his sleeves, which were long,
He had twenty-four jacks,
Which was coming it strong,
Yet I state but the facts.
And we found on his nails, which were taper,
What is frequent in tapers—that's vain.

Which is why I remark—
And my language is plain—
That for ways that are dark
And for tricks that are vain
The heathen Chinese is peculiar—
Which the same I am free to maintain.

MOTHER OF A MIGHTY RACE

By William Cullen Bryant

MOTHER of a mighty race,
Yet lowly in thy youthful grace,
The elder dames, thy haughty
patriarchs,
Admire and hate thy blooming years;
With words of shame
And taunts of scorn they join thy name.

For on thy cheeks the glow is spread
That tints thy morning hills with red;
Thy step, the wild deer's rustling foot
Within thy woods are not more fleet;
Thy hopeful eye
Is bright as thine own sunny sky.

Aye; let them rail, those haughty ones,
While safe thou dwellest with the rose;
They do not know how loved thou art,
How many a fond and beating heart
Would rise to throw
Its life between thee and the foe.

They know not, in their hate and pride,
What virtues with thy children bide—
How true, how good, thy graceful maids
Make bright, like flowers, the valley shades;

What generous men
Spring, like thine orles, by hill and fen,

What cordial welcomes greet the guest
By thy lone rivers of the west;
How faith is kept and truth revered
And man is loved and God is feared
In woodland homes
And where the ocean borders foams.

There's freedom at thy gates and rest
For earth's down-trodden and oppressed,
A shelter for the hunted head,
For the starved laborer toll and bread
Power at thy bounds
Stops and calls back his baffled hounds.

O fair young mother, on thy brow
Shall sit a nobler grace than now!
Deep in the brightness of thy skies
The thronging years in glory rise
And as they fleet
Drop strength and riches at thy feet.

Thine eye with every coming hour Shall brighten, and thy form shall tower,
And when thy sisters, elder born,
Would brand thy name with words of scorn

Before thine eye
Thy name, O mother, shall die.

Throwing Fire at Soldiers.

Greek fire, which had several other names—wild fire, liquid fire, wet fire and fire rain—was the most destructive war material used before the introduction of gunpowder. Discovered by Callinicus, a Syrian, it was first used in the siege of Constantinople, 673-678, and at Mecca, 690. According to an eyewitness, it made a noise like thunder, looked like a dragon flying through the air and made night light as day. This, allowing for a vivid imagination, gives its striking characteristics when poured from caldrons, shot from copper tubes in balls of twisted flax or expelled from catapults in vials during sieges and naval engagements. Water made it burn more fiercely, and wherever it fell it spread a torrent of fire. So well was the secret of its production kept that its precise ingredients and admixture were still unknown, but it is certain that naphtha, sulphur, gums of resinous trees, charcoal, saltpetre, pitch and other bituminous were used.

Hot and Cold Crystals.

Whether we watch with the microscope a tiny crystal growing from a drop of solution or contemplate with the imagination the stages by which the fiery lavas of past geological periods sank to rest and crystallized, said Professor H. A. Miers in an address before the geological section of the British association at Cape Town, we view the same process. It is the transformation of liquid into crystal—not necessarily into a solid, for research shows there is no dividing line between liquid and solid. A plastic solid body may flow; a solid glass is only a super-cooled liquid. The real primary distinction is between crystal line and noncrystalline material. There are two great liquid reservoirs from which materials have crystallized: the sea with its dissolved salts and the subterranean baths of molten glass from which the igneous rocks have been derived. New York Globe.

German Care of Landscapes.

Most German states have laws to prevent the disfigurement of landscapes by advertisements. The district authorities are authorized to determine what landscapes, buildings or monuments of historical or artistic value should be protected. Violations of the statute are made punishable by fine with or without imprisonment. The statute provides against the display of pictures, advertisements or other things calculated to mar or disfigure any especially attractive landscape or detract from the artistic or aesthetic effect of any building or other structure of special importance or as highly prejudicial to any street or part of a city. The alteration of buildings of historical or artistic value may be prohibited by the local authorities, as may the construction of other buildings calculated to interfere with such historical monuments.

Found a Way.

A widow of an old Lyceum theater servant applied to Irving for some sort of occupation about the theater where by she might earn a living. Irving appealed to Loveday, his manager.

"There is absolutely no vacancy of any kind," said Loveday.

"Can't you give her a job to look after the theater?" I think we've two many nice jobs to mention rats."

"No," said Loveday, "there are two women already on that job."

"Hum, ha, let me see," said Irving reflectively, then suddenly brightening with an idea. "Very well, then, give her the job of looking after the two women who are looking after the rats."

The widow was at once engaged on the permanent staff of the theater.

Dreams.

A scientist explains some of the strange phenomena of dreams by saying that they are due to what he calls "hereditary memory." He takes the "falling through space" dream and points out that after suffering the mental agony of falling the sleeper escapes the shock of the actual stopping. The explanation is that the falling sensations have been transmitted from remote ancestors who were fortunate enough to save themselves after falling from great heights in treetops by clutching the branches. The molecular changes in the cerebral cells due to the shock of stopping could not be transmitted because victims falling to the bottom would be killed. In a similar manner by reverting to the habits of animals which existed centuries ago the same investigator finds an explanation for the mental state experienced by individuals in various dreams—the "pursuing monster" dream, the "reptile and vermin" dream, color dreams, suffocation dreams, flying dreams and the like.

Small Trades.
"Folks here are prone to be fond of personal diseases. I have never yet seen a reliable worker who is not a nervous wreck, who is not off in the head," complained the owner of a large factory. "I don't know who it is, but I need to be a worker myself, and I have never recovered from the effects of the trade. Half the men are away sick or dying. They are all ways ill, nervous and flighty, and a public opinion makes them so. I don't see how it is possible to get them out of it."

The business of a shoeing party, when questioned was better informed as to the cause.
"How does that shoe all over the road?" he asked. "Consumption, rheumatism, or that." "Infectious World and quick as that."

THE SOUTHERN RAILROAD
The Southern Railway has been authorized by the National Board of Trade in Washington recently that the Southern Railway should be authorized to give a political commission power to say how and when business that is done in the United States. The feeling that only a deal would be the law in the South has been increasing, and for many months now some law. People are coming to see that if a government commission should be authorized to say how and when business that is done in the United States, the Southern Railway would have nothing to hope for in it, and if it should be authorized to say how and when business that is done in the United States, the Southern Railway would have nothing to hope for in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahory and their children, who are occupying a cottage at the corner of Live Oak and Palmto Avenues, left this morning on a week's trip to Miami.

Captain Leon Ellenwood, of the launch Dixie, has returned to the city from a trip to Miami. On board the launch were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dupont, with their children and party of friends. They were absent about a week and report a very enjoyable trip.

Deadly Trades.
"Tobacco workers are prone to lead by nervous diseases. I have never yet seen a tobacco worker who is not a nervous crank, who is not off in his head," complained the owner of a large cigar factory. "I don't know why it is. I used to be a worker myself, and I have never recovered from the effects of the trade. Half the time my men are away sick or dying, they are always ill tempered and flighty, and a public agitation makes idiots of them. I don't know the reason, as I said." He was advised to consult a physician and end out.

The foreman of a stonecutting yard, when questioned, was better informed as to the evils of his trade.

"See those dust clouds all over the yard?" he said. "Consumption there! And quick, at that!"—Technical World.

It only takes $14,500 to buy a corner on Ridgewood Avenue, 105 feet front and 300 feet deep, with three large well finished and completely furnished houses, all wired for electric lights and having fine bath arrangement, with hot and cold water. One of the houses has furnace heat.

This proposition will pay over 10 per cent. net on the investment—remember we said OVER 10 per cent. and we stand ready to demonstrate this fact.

We have another investment that takes in the entire side of one street for the length of one block, has 6 modern cottages completely furnished and the price is low considering everything about $22,000, and it will net you over 10 per cent. on the investment. Mean OVER 10 per cent. when we say it.

Decided Stand on Rate Making.
The resolutions adopted by the National Board of Trade in its annual convention in Washington recently show that the business interests of the United States are less anxious for government rate regulation than they have been made to appear. The National Board of Trade is made up of local boards of trade and other business associations all over the country, and it is a pretty good representative of business sentiment. The convention refused to pass resolutions in favor of giving the Interstate Commerce Commission power to fix rates. It did pass resolutions in favor of leaving the rate question to the courts.

The way Southern business men look at the railroad situation is shown by the stand they took in the convention. The Southern delegates led the fight against the proposition to give a political commission power to say how and where business shall be done in the United States. The feeling that such a deal would not be fair to the South has been growing among her business men for some time. People are coming to see that if a government commission should be influenced by sectional or party interests the South would have nothing to hope for from it, and if it should fix rates according to a hard and fast rule it would completely upset business conditions in the South and strike the hardest kind of a blow at her prosperity.

The Southern railroads have always made rates with a view to building up the territory along their lines and putting its products into the markets on terms that would let them compete with the products of other sections, instead of trying to live up to any scheme of equal rates for equal distances. The growth of the South for the last twenty-five years shows how this scheme of rate-making has worked. The capital invested in cotton mills has increased, since 1880, from $21,000,000 to $225,000,000. The value of farm products has grown from $600,000,000 to $1,750,000,000; the value of cotton from $313,000,000 to $680,000,000; pig iron production from 397,000 to 3,300,000 tons; coal from 6,000,000 to 67,000,000 tons; lumber from $39,000,000 to $250,000,000 in value; manufactures from $157,000,000 to $1,750,000,000. Southern business men know how much of this growth is due to the help given by the railroads in finding markets. They are afraid that rates made by a government commission according to a fixed rule would not be so easily adjusted to help out particular parts of the country, and that Southern products would lose their present advantages in reaching outside markets.
